"So we have this great ability to turn the pixels of one into pixels of something else." Fundamental changes to the way we work with images could have a lot to offer the business world. Here are the benefits of being able to make someone laugh and make them laugh for quite a long time. You can make someone laugh so much they don't notice you're actually taking a picture of them. You can make money out of virtually free images or copyright free images you find using sites like iStockPhotos and Canva (built-in I've used both).
